Optional Human Factors Training Software Package

All the work has been done for you!

This is a training software package that includes all training materials for a two-day initial HF course. The course is modular in structure and can be used as is or customized to your specific needs/requirements. Training topics meet the requirements of global regulators (including FAA, Transport Canada, and EASA).

Our HF software package includes:

- Lifetime support-

  - We are available through Skype, email, or teleconference to give you support for your HF training program.

  - If you have questions, ideas, or would like to keep up on the latest HF training requirements or developments, just reach out to us. We can be a great resource; we do HF 24/7!

- One-time license fee (no renewal fees)-

  - You pay a one-time licensing fee and never have to pay annual renewal fees (as with other software providers). Over time, this can save your company a significant amount of money.

- Hundreds of PowerPoint slides-

  - Professionally developed slides that will get, and retain, student's attention.

  - Course slides are developed by subject, in a modular structure.

  - Slide presentations can be used as is or customized to your specific needs/requirements.

- Extensive notes-

  - Slides contain reference notes for the instructor.

- Videos-

  - All course videos are included as files (not web links that become dead after a period of time). Clicking on a dead Internet link can be embarrassing and awkward!

- Exercises-

  - All course exercises are provided.

- Handouts-

  - All course handouts are provided.

- Training supplements-

  - We provide you with a library of HF information that you can use for personal learning as well as training incorporation.

  - The supplements include a few of the "must read" HF training reference books that are extremely helpful if you want to get "right to the point!"

- Test-

  - We provide you with a test and answer key for the course in its current form. Note that if you modify the course, you may need to modify the test as well.

  - The test consists of 20 questions in a combination of multiple choice, true/false, and fill-in-the-blank.
